

Am I eligible for Tasmanian Government subsidised training?

The Tasmanian Government subsidises some of the cost of training for eligible learners. The remainder of the cost is paid by the learner and, where relevant, the employer.

Only the following people are eligible for Tasmanian Government subsidised training:

- Australian citizens
- Permanent residents

And Tasmanian residents who have permission for work and study in Australia and:

- Are New Zealand citizens with a Special Category Visa
- Are holders of temporary humanitarian visas
- Are Tasmanian State Sponsored skilled migrant visa holders
- Are a dependent (aged over 18) or partner (spouse) visa holder of an eligible applicant<sup>1</sup>

Your Registered Training Organisation (RTO) or Apprenticeship Network Provider will ask you for evidence of your visa status.

You will need the following documents to show your visa status:

Eligible person	Evidence
1 Australian citizens	Passport, birth certificate, or citizenship certificate.
2 Permanent residents	Passport with visa.
3 New Zealand citizens with a Special Category Visa	Passport with visa.
4 Temporary humanitarian visa holders	Passport with visa.
5 Tasmanian State Sponsored skilled migrant visa holders	Passport with visa. Copy of your sponsorship notification from the Department of State Growth, Migration Tasmania .
6 Dependent or partner (spouse) of an eligible primary visa holder (numbers 1-5)	Passport with visa (either spouse visa, or visa categories 1-5 only. Bridging visas are ineligible) Copy of primary visa holder visa.

Bridging visa holders are ineligible for Tasmanian Government subsidised training.

If you are unsure about what is needed, contact your Registered Training Organisation (RTO) or Apprenticeship Network Provider.

<sup>1</sup> Dependents under the age of 18 are eligible for study at Tasmanian Government schools. Contact Department of Education for details.
